public art coordination

Public art in our environment can be stand alone works, integrated into the furnishings, or temporal works that are part of a ceremony. Artworks can provide craftsmanship for furnishings that is often lost in modern construction, encourage a new understanding of an environment or provide a spiritual connection to a place.

Our Services

- theme development
- site location
- design of setting for artwork
- subcontracting to and management of art coordinator
- participation in art brief writing
- participation in artist selection
- reviewing of artwork development
- coordination of the installation with landscape construction

Our Approach

Ecoscape designs environments that are inspired by the unique natural and cultural history of a site and by the future visions of a community. Artworks help to articulate the particular story being told about a place and support the design concept.
